

Black History Week at Red Gates

In our mini exhibition, we had a display of various Black cultural artefacts and activities. Our exhibition named 'Old and New'. We explored old and new materials and objects. Please see some of the photos below:

African clothing display

African jewellery

Taste of Africa: Jollof rice. A staff member kindly made Jollof rice for children and staff.

I am exploring an African print fabric: African Ankara print

I am playing the 'Awale' game: a social game of counting and turn taking.

I am grinding some rice using an earthen dish and a wooden pestle

I am grinding some rice using a stone grinder

I am wearing a traditional African bracelet

Dressing up: I am wearing a traditional African handmade fabric

We are completing a matching activity: 'Find the same'

I am browsing at the display: Traditional African sandals (Ghana/Cote D'ivoire)

I am completing a matching activity independently: 'find the same'

I am watching adult modelling 'Awale game'

Modelling traditional African sandals from Ghana/Cote D'ivoire/Akan tribe.

Dress in African print dress and completing a 'find the same activity'

I am completing a matching activity 'find the same'. I am also wearing traditional Akan sandals

I'm wearing an outfit from Mali

I am modelling the traditional African fabric 'Kente' from Ghana/Cote D'ivoire/Akan tribe

I independently wrap the traditional African fabric around my waist: Kente Ghana

I am independently browsing at the display

Ocean drum musical activity using rice.

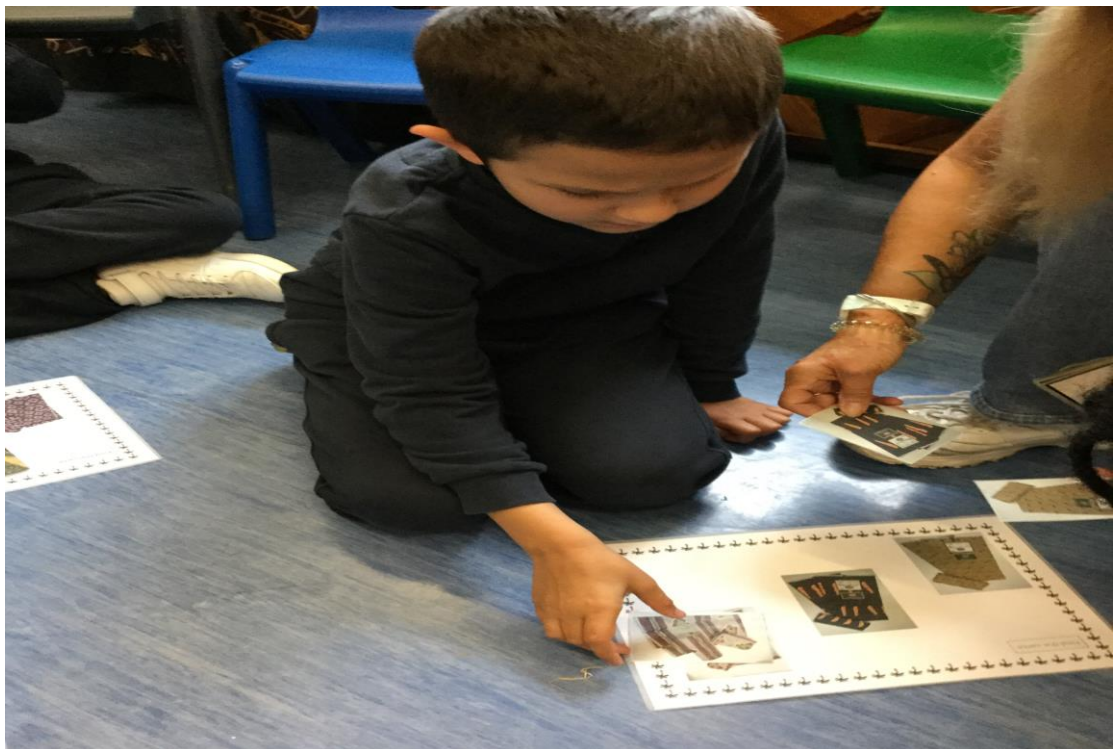

I am holding an African print fabric: African Ankara

Children are exploring African Musical instruments

I am holding a traditional African broom

I am engaged in a matching activity: 'find the same'

I am exploring an African print fabric (exploring texture)

I am wearing an African print fabric: African Ankara

I am sweeping the floor using an African broom

I enjoy wrapping myself up with the African print fabric

I enjoy dressing up

I am holding a fabric fan

I enjoy grinding rice using a stone grinder

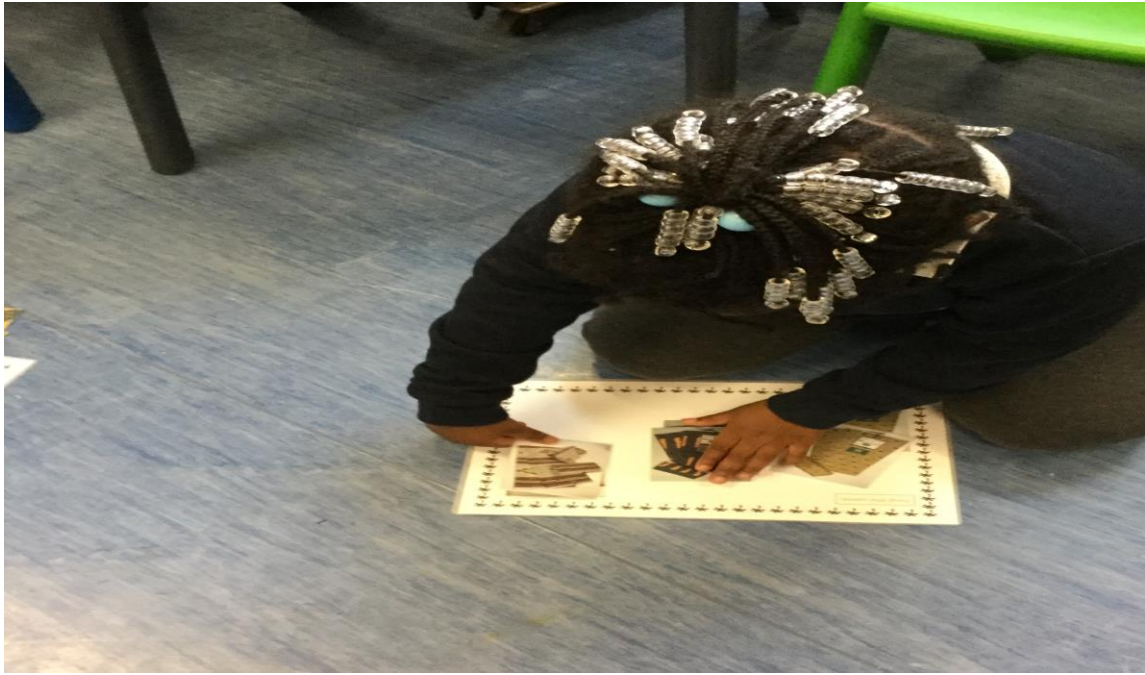

We are listening and eye tracking the movements of the beads inside the Ocean drum

I am exploring the earthen dish: texture exploration

I am helping to carry some wood for cooking

I am independently completing a matching activity: 'find the same'.

I am enjoying the softness of the African print fabric: texture exploration

African fabric display and Windrush generation photographs (1967/1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th generation)